

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
Washington, D. C.

MINUTES OF A REGULAR MEETING
OF THE FACULTY SENATE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1985, IN LISNER HALL
Room 603

1 The meeting was called to order by President Elliott at 2:10 p.m.

Present: President Elliott, Vice President French, Registrar Grimm, Parliamentarian Schechter, Altshuler, Claeysens, Della Torre, Eldridge, Fox, Greene, Griffith, Hill, Kelley, Kenney, Liebowitz, Loeser, Parrish, Pierpont, Rashid, D. Robinson, L. Robinson, Schiff, Schiller, Smith, Tolchin, Wallace, Yezer, and Ziolkowski

Absent: Barron, Birnbaum, Castleberry, Cheh, East, Levy, Lovett, Rycroft, Singpurwalla and Solomon

2 The President called for approval of the minutes of the regular meeting of October 11, 1985, as distributed. The minutes were corrected to indicate that Professor Della Torre was present, not absent, at the October 11th meeting. The minutes were then approved as corrected.

3 Under Old Business, Professor Griffith said that the response of the administration to the Senate's proposed amendments to Article X of the Faculty Code and Paragraph E. of the Implementing Procedures had been formalized in two memoranda from President Elliott dated October 9 and 10, 1985, respectively. The memoranda were distributed to the Senate at the meeting. He explained that it was the Executive Committee's intention to ask the administration to explain its reasons at this meeting for the changes recommended in these documents. In order to allow the Senate time to review the memoranda, Professor Griffith moved a 5-minute recess and no objection was made.

After the short recess, the session was called back to order, and President Elliott recognized Vice President French who summarized the basic grounds for the administration's decision not to accept in its entirety the proposed set of amendments. He spoke first to the rejection of the proposed system for arbitration of certain disputes.

In the first place, he said, the administration, along with the Council of Deans, had strong reservations about the consequences of the proposed arbitration

3 system in that it was so broadly drawn as to potentially open up almost endless possible actions. Second, department chairs would be the principal focus of such complaints leading to arbitration at a time when the administration is trying to encourage department chairs to assume a larger role in academic leadership. Third, under the proposed arbitration system, administrators would have the option of choosing not to submit to arbitration, and the administration would not have the authority to compel their participation. Fourth, he said he did not think the proposed arbitration structure was parallel to that employed by other institutions because the arbitrator in this system would not be an approved outside third party, but rather a faculty member chosen from a faculty pool within the University.

Dr. French also explained the administration's objections to the proposed Article X.B.1.b, authorizing any faculty member to file a grievance against another for serious misconduct or neglect. There is, he noted, a general lack of clarity regarding sanctions or remedies available to the administration under the Faculty Code, short of termination, to implement such a grievance procedure.

Professor Griffith explained that the memoranda were not circulated to the full faculty at this time because there are ongoing negotiations between the administration, University counsel, Professor Hill, Chair, Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee, and himself about several points contained therein. Once the Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee has had an opportunity to review the memoranda and to prepare its recommendation for proposed new language for Senate action, Professor Griffith said that that information will then be distributed to the full faculty.

Professor Schiller inquired whether the arbitration experiment referred to in the October 10th memorandum would still be tried on an ad hoc basis for a particular department even though the proposed arbitration system would not be a part of the Faculty Code. Vice President French replied that he was willing to participate in such an experiment if he could succeed in finding some academic unit willing to try it, but the rules would have to be adapted for use by a selected number of smaller units in that case.

At this point, the Chair was turned over to Vice President French by President Elliott who had to leave the meeting for another engagement.

4 . No resolutions were introduced under Introduction of Resolutions.

Faculty Senate - Minutes, November 8, 1985, p. 3

5 Mr. Robert D. Shoup, Director of the Budget, reported on enrollment figures and the University budget, as set forth in the material distributed to the Senate at the meeting. He said that the University budget will be submitted to the Board of Trustees in January, 1986, and that the information covered today excluded the Medical Center because its budget is prepared later in the year for submission to the Board in May. With reference to the projections in enrollment for the general University from Fall 1985 to Fall 1986, he pointed out that the decline included a reduction of 207 full-time undergraduates upon advice from the Enrollment Committee that incoming student volume be reduced to a more manageable level determined by the availability of dormitory space. He also pointed out that there was an increase in the 1985-86 Budget of about 3 million dollars in estimated expenses stemming about two-thirds from increased telephone bills and the acquisition of Riverside Towers. Under Budget Proposals for 1986-87, Mr. Shoup noted that the Budget Committee was recommending that the GWU Grants portion of Student Financial Aid be increased by $500,000; the level of all Student Financial Aid will, of course, increase at the same rate as tuition; that fringe benefits be increased from 17% to 18%; and that incremental increases for salaries and wages be set at 6%. In concluding his report, Mr. Shoup said that he would be glad to answer any questions.

Professor David Robinson said that he was concerned about the statement that acceptance of undergraduate students was limited by the the availability of dormitory space because there are many fine public and private institutions across the United States which do not attempt to offer dormitory space to more than a small fraction of their undergraduate student body. Mr. Shoup responded that the Admissions Office has advised that the undergraduate student body largely comes from outside the District and is heavily dependent upon available dormitory space. Further discussion followed by Mr. Stoner, Professor D. Robinson, Associate Provost Phelps, Professor Griffith, Mr. Shoup, Dean Liebowitz, Professor Eldridge, Professor L. Robinson, and Vice President French.

6 Dr. Michael J. Worth, Vice President for Development, presented a report on the University's major fund-raising development campaign. Although the University has not announced or even established a formal, final goal for this campaign, Dr. Worth said that the major objective of this program will be for academic improvement, the pursuit of higher levels of academic quality, and developing long-term resources that are necessary

6 for primarily increased endowments. In the past, the University's development campaigns have been single-purposed, for example, for the construction of a new building such as Ross Hall; however, the University is now at a point in time when a comprehensive multi-million dollar University-wide fund-raising effort is possible, particularly in view of the Report of the Commission for the Year 2000 which projects even higher levels of academic quality for the University within the balance of this century. Dr. Worth said that this campaign was not simply one of the Board of Trustees, the President, or the Development Office, but was really the University's in which everyone plays a role. In closing, Dr. Worth offered to answer any questions. Professor Schiller asked if there has been any decision as to how the funds will be allocated among the schools. Dr. Worth responded that he was not talking about a single fund to which people are likely to contribute large sums of money to be allocated by the University administration. Major gifts will be made for specific purposes determined by and fairly consistent with the donor's own affiliation, interest, and desires. Professor Wallace asked how long the campaign will take if started in 1986. Dr. Worth replied that it is a five-year campaign but intensive fund-raising occurs in the first three years.

7 (a) On behalf of the Executive Committee, Professor Griffith reported that last year the Executive Committee had asked the Research Committee and the Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee to review the request from the administration for Senate assistance in the development of an updated policy on conflict of interest. These committees have now recommended that a Special Committee be elected by the Faculty Senate to study this matter and that the membership of this committee include people who have particular background knowledge in this area. Professor Griffith said that the Executive Committee will consult on this matter and will propose a slate of nominees possibly at the next Senate meeting for election to this Special Committee.

Dean Liebowitz asked what prompted the concern about developing a new policy on conflict of interest. Professor Griffith responded that the Faculty Senate had received a request from the Chairman of the Medical Center Faculty Senate to look into the development of a policy. Subsequently, President Elliott and Vice Presi-

Faculty Senate - Minutes, November 8, 1985, p. 5

7 dent French also asked that the Faculty Senate look into this question because there appeared to be an increasing number of acute problems of conflict of interest caused by the increased collaboration between industry and university research. Dean Liebowitz replied that he was not opposed to the administration's request, but he thought that if this is a Medical School problem, then efforts should be confined to that specific problem without broadening the scope of the issue because he assumed most faculty are doing things which are correct. Professor Fox supported Dean Liebowitz' position on the matter, and Professor Ziolkowski commented that the administration appeared to be concerned that different schools might develop different policies which could prove troublesome in the future. Vice President French commented that at the present moment, in the absence of a University policy, specific cases come to the President for some kind of determination without an agreed-upon framework.

Concluding his report, Professor Griffith said that the Executive Committee would appreciate recommendations of nominees for election to the Special Committee on the development of a conflict of interest policy, as well as any indication from those who may oppose the establishment of such a committee. This information would have to be received by the Executive Committee prior to its next scheduled meeting on Friday, November 22nd, when the December Senate agenda is set.

7 (b) The following reports were made by the Chairs of Senate Standing Committees:

(1) Committee on Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom, Professor Peter P. Hill, Chair: The committee will meet November 15th to discuss the administration's response to the proposed Senate amendments to the Faculty Code pertaining to grievance procedures, and some Code changes may be ready for the December Senate meeting; the committee also hopes to propose additional language for the Code with reference to the mode of disposing of grievance cases when they reach the Board of Trustees; the committee is working on language for the Code and the Faculty Handbook that will affirm the responsibility of the faculty to report on serious faculty misconduct or significant neglect of faculty responsibilities; the committee has responded to a request for an opinion on whether or not academic freedom was being violated if the guidelines for monitoring the use of animals in the laboratory were extended to the classroom, and the committee concluded that it did not believe that such restraints

7 were less enforceable in the classroom than in the laboratory. Professor Hill noted that the Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee's reluctance to take on the question of developing a conflict of interest policy stemmed from the difficulty of finding members who were willing to serve, although he has volunteered to serve on the proposed Special Committee as a representative of the Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee.

(2) Committee on Educational and Admissions Policy, Professor Lilien F. Robinson, Chair: The committee has met three times and will meet next week; the four items presently under study are the summer sessions calendar, summer sessions salaries, the proposed plus and minus grading system, and religious holidays. The committee is also working on those sections of the Commission Report that were assigned to it.

(3) Joint Committee of Faculty and Students, Professor Stefan O. Schiff, Co-Chair: The committee has convened and expects to bring to the Senate at its next meeting a new Statement on Academic Dishonesty; the committee has established a subcommittee to work on the section of the Commission Report assigned to it.

(4) Committee on Honors and Academic Convocations, Professor Martha N. Rashid, Chair: A subcommittee has met and forwarded its suggestions pertaining to honors to the full committee for consideration; a subcommittee is working on designated sections of the Commission Report.

(5) Committee on Research, Professor John E. Ziolkowski, Chair: The committee has met twice and is working on the recommendations regarding research in the Commission Report and also in the Obstacles to Research Report; the committee will be collaborating with the Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee on modifying the Faculty Code to reflect greater emphasis on research. Professor Ziolkowski noted that the Research Committee also declined to take on the task of developing a policy on conflict of interest, but recommended jointly with the Professional Ethics and Academic Freedom Committee that a Special Committee be established to carry on this study, and he has volunteered to serve as a representative of the Research Committee. Professor Ziolkowski said he would refrain from commenting on the description of the Research Committee in the Preliminary Report of the Special Committee on Senate Self-Study, but he thought it most "unkind."

(6) Committee on University and Urban Affairs,

Professor Ruth A. Wallace, Chair: The committee has met twice and will meet on December 5th; three subcommittees have been formed to examine the three major recommendations assigned to the committee with regard to the Commission Report. Professor Wallace said that she must take exception to the way the committee was evaluated in the Preliminary Report of the Special Committee on Senate Self-Study. The basis for evaluation appeared to be the number of resolutions a committee brought before the Senate, and while the Committee on University and Urban Affairs did not produce any resolutions last year, it did produce, along with the assistance of Jane Lingo, News and Public Affairs, a publication entitled Commitments, which has been well-received and which represents a lot of work.

(7) Committee on Physical Facilities, Professor

Richard A. Kenney, Chair: The committee has met on three occasions, two of these being regular monthly meetings and one a meeting by invitation with the architect responsible for the rehabilitation of the University Yard; this subject has been the major item of the committee's business; the committee has also received reports of progress on several other projects carried from the previous committee, including the Presidents' House project and the development of a multipurpose campus brochure; two subcommittees have been formed to make a preliminary study of the two recommendations of the Commission Report assigned by the Executive Committee.

(8) Committee on Libraries, Associate Professor

David A. Altshuler, Chair: The committee has agreed on several recommendations for the the Senate to respond to the Commission Report; the committee will discuss the Consortium-Cooperative Library Project, the plans to remodel the Gelman Library, and the general nature of collection development in all of the libraries; a subcommittee has been formed to study Collections Policies in basic medical science areas as these policies reflect the various mandates for Gelman and Himmelfarb Libraries; a request has been made that the University Librarian consider whether faculty borrowing privileges at Gelman Library should be revised in order to curb allegedly "wasteful" or "abusive" privileges; the committee intends to notify the Executive Committee that library staffs and patrons report wide-spread persistent overcrowding of all three libraries by users looking primarily for quiet study space; and a study is being conducted on an apparently alarming proliferation

7 of library users who are not members of the University community.

(9) Committee on Fiscal Planning and Budgeting, Professor Susan J. Tolchin, Chair: The committee has met once at which time a preview of the University Budget was presented by Budget Director Shoup and Provost Johnson. The committee will decide on its agenda for the year at its next meeting.

(10) Committee on Appointments, Salary and Promotion Policies, Professor Rodney W. Eldridge, Chair: The committee has met twice and is scheduled to meet next week; two members of the committee undertook a special study of fringe benefits with a recommendation for improvements, which the University has carried out; the committee is also reviewing the question of summer sessions pay scales in conjunction with the Educational and Admissions Policy Committee; the committee is studying a possible additional fringe benefit that is analogous to one now available to students, and that is to provide a support facility for faculty members who are experiencing emotional or psychological problems; and the committee is working on its responsibility to respond to the Commission Report.

(11) Committee on Student Financial Aid, Professor Edward Della Torre, Chair: The committee has met and the primary item of discussion was the pending legislation in Congress which might markedly affect the amount of student aid that will be available in the future, and, as soon as the impact of that can be assessed, the committee will be meeting again to try to find out what to do about it.

(12) Committee on Administrative Matters as They Affect the Faculty, Professor Griffith on behalf of Associate Professor Jerry L. Lake, Acting Chair: The committee is considering a draft of a new smoking policy for the University and a recommendation on that will probably be coming before the Senate for action fairly soon.

Professor Greene, on behalf of Professor Mary M. Cheh, Chair of the Special Committee on the Report of the Commission for the Year 2000, reported that the committee has met twice and has received a response from the President on the status of the Commission Report vis-a-vis the Board of Trustees. The committee has developed a questionnaire to be distributed to all

7 faculty members to solicit responses not only on recommendations in the Report, but other alternatives and other items that might be missing in view of faculty members.

8 Under Brief Statements, Professor Griffith made the following remarks:

The University has recently instituted a Service Awards program for non-academic staff members of the University. The purpose of this program is to recognize and thank employees who have given long term service to the University. From now on, employees celebrating their 5th, 10th, 15th, etc., anniversary of employment, will receive a Certificate of Recognition and a small award.

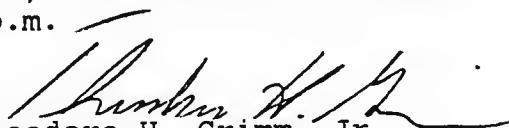

This year is a catch-up year for employees who would have received such an award earlier if the program had been in existence then. In our case, it is my privilege to present an award and Certificate of Recognition for ten years of service to Ms. Doris Trone, our Coordinator of Faculty Senate Activities, who would have earned this award in 1982 had the program been in place then.

As those of you know who have been active in the Senate in recent years, Doris Trone serves the Faculty Senate with great effectiveness, loyalty and devotion, as both our legislative clerk to this body and its standing committees, and as clerk of the court to our Faculty Grievance System. Whatever success any given Executive Committee has in keeping business flowing through the Senate and keeping non-concurrences and grievances from ending up in the courts owes a great deal to Doris' extremely reliable and conscientious help through her efficient running of the Senate office.

It, therefore, gives me great pleasure to present this award and Certificate of Recognition on behalf of the University to Doris Trone, on the occasion of what is now ten-years-plus-three of faithful and valuable service to our community.

Ms. Trone accepted the award and thanked the Senate members.

9 Upon motion made and seconded, Vice President French adjourned the meeting at 3:58 p.m.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
INTERDEPARTMENTAL MEMORANDUM

November 8, 1985

Memorandum to Members of the Faculty Senate

The attached schedules were reviewed by the University Budget Committee on October 10, 1985. This information presents the first planning budget for fiscal 1986-87 including enrollment projections and proposed tuition rates.

The first schedule provides a summary of the results of Fall registration excluding students in a continuous enrollment status. The next schedule is the Enrollment Report which includes projections for Fall 1986. The estimated decline in enrollment for the general University of 323 students from Fall '85 to Fall '86 includes a reduction of 207 full-time undergraduates.

The categories of proposed increases for 1986-87 which have been included in the budget are listed following the Budget Summaries. Of particular note is that the reserve for program improvements has been eliminated. This cost reduction measure was necessitated by a net decline in non-tuition revenues and the reduced tuition expected from a lower 1986 enrollment.

The proposed 1986-87 tuition rates and a comparison to the current rates of some other schools complete the package.
